NewAge Global Fintech

Quarterly Report · Q3 FY2025

For the third quarter of fiscal year 2025

Contents

1. Overview
2. Strategy and operations
3. Results
4. Outlook

1. Overview

The compliance function completed its annual review of sanctions screening controls. Data platform work concentrated on lineage, so that every reported figure can be traced to its source.

Staff training covered the revised conduct framework and the new incident reporting procedure. Technology spending shifted from new builds towards reliability work on existing services.

Cost discipline remained a priority, and discretionary spending was held flat. Regional teams harmonised product terms so that customers see one fee schedule in every market.

Partnership agreements with two payroll providers moved from pilot into general availability. The group continued to simplify its legal entity structure where this reduces operating cost.

1.2 Customers

Customer accounts reached 2.4 million at the end of Q3 FY2025, with most new accounts opened through the mobile application.

Risk management reviewed concentration limits across the lending book and found no breaches. The markets desk continued to serve corporate clients with hedging and short-term funding products.

Treasury extended the maturity profile of wholesale funding during the period. Customer complaints fell compared with the prior quarter after changes to dispute handling.

Cost discipline remained a priority, and discretionary spending was held flat. The markets desk continued to serve corporate clients with hedging and short-term funding products.

The group continued to simplify its legal entity structure where this reduces operating cost. Investment in fraud analytics focused on earlier detection of account takeover patterns.

Treasury extended the maturity profile of wholesale funding during the period. Technology spending shifted from new builds towards reliability work on existing services.

Risk management reviewed concentration limits across the lending book and found no breaches. The group kept its funding mix stable, with customer deposits remaining the primary source of liquidity.

2. Strategy and operations

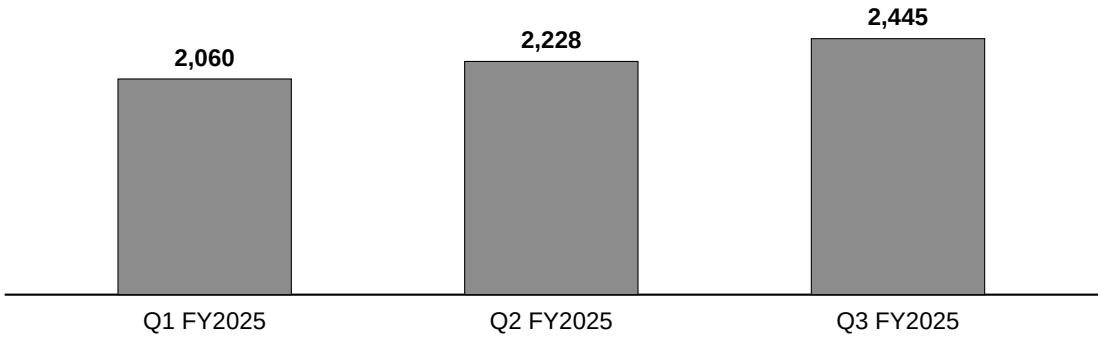
The group kept its funding mix stable, with customer deposits remaining the primary source of liquidity. Cost discipline remained a priority, and discretionary spending was held flat.

Customer complaints fell compared with the prior quarter after changes to dispute handling. Staff training covered the revised conduct framework and the new incident reporting procedure.

Data platform work concentrated on lineage, so that every reported figure can be traced to its source. Risk management reviewed concentration limits across the lending book and found no breaches.

Customer research informed changes to the mobile application's statement and document views. The lending business tightened underwriting criteria for unsecured products in selected segments.

Figure 1 · Digital transactions processed · millions



Treasury extended the maturity profile of wholesale funding during the period. Operating teams completed the migration of merchant onboarding to the shared identity service.

Card issuing volumes followed the usual seasonal pattern for the period. The markets desk continued to serve corporate clients with hedging and short-term funding products.

Operating teams completed the migration of merchant onboarding to the shared identity service. The compliance function completed its annual review of sanctions screening controls.

Technology spending shifted from new builds towards reliability work on existing services. Customer complaints fell compared with the prior quarter after changes to dispute handling.

Investment in fraud analytics focused on earlier detection of account takeover patterns. The markets desk continued to serve corporate clients with hedging and short-term funding products.

The board approved the updated capital plan and the dividend policy remained unchanged. The lending business tightened underwriting criteria for unsecured products in selected segments.

Partnership agreements with two payroll providers moved from pilot into general availability. Investment in fraud analytics focused on earlier detection of account takeover patterns.

Treasury extended the maturity profile of wholesale funding during the period. Regional teams harmonised product terms so that customers see one fee schedule in every market.

Data platform work concentrated on lineage, so that every reported figure can be traced to its source. The quarter continued the programme of consolidating payment rails onto a single settlement platform.

Technology spending shifted from new builds towards reliability work on existing services. Staff training covered the revised conduct framework and the new incident reporting procedure.

Technology spending shifted from new builds towards reliability work on existing services. Customer research informed changes to the mobile application's statement and document views.

Partnership agreements with two payroll providers moved from pilot into general availability. Treasury extended the maturity profile of wholesale funding during the period.

Data platform work concentrated on lineage, so that every reported figure can be traced to its source. Risk management reviewed concentration limits across the lending book and found no breaches.

The markets desk continued to serve corporate clients with hedging and short-term funding products. Investment in fraud analytics focused on earlier detection of account takeover patterns.

3. Results

Operating teams completed the migration of merchant onboarding to the shared identity service. The quarter continued the programme of consolidating payment rails onto a single settlement platform.

Customer complaints fell compared with the prior quarter after changes to dispute handling. Data platform work concentrated on lineage, so that every reported figure can be traced to its source.

The board approved the updated capital plan and the dividend policy remained unchanged. Treasury extended the maturity profile of wholesale funding during the period.

Regional teams harmonised product terms so that customers see one fee schedule in every market. The lending business tightened underwriting criteria for unsecured products in selected segments.

Partnership agreements with two payroll providers moved from pilot into general availability. Staff training covered the revised conduct framework and the new incident reporting procedure.

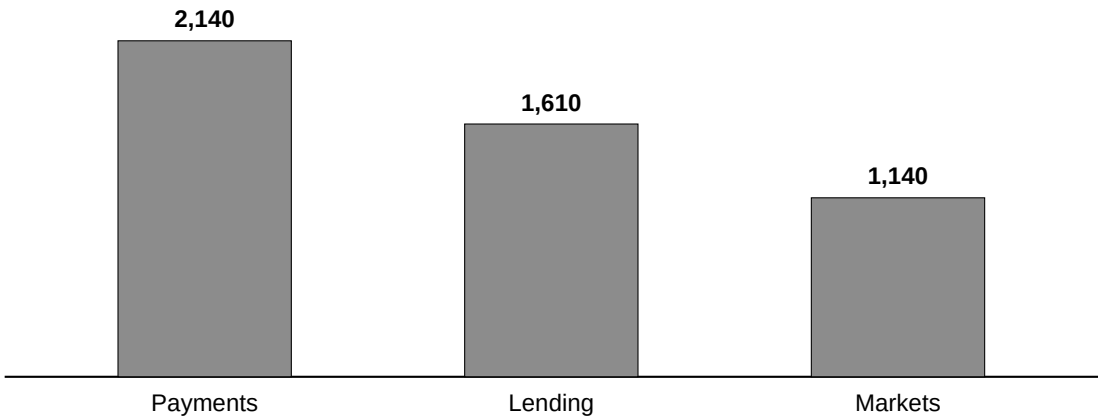
Regional teams harmonised product terms so that customers see one fee schedule in every market. The group kept its funding mix stable, with customer deposits remaining the primary source of liquidity.

The group continued to simplify its legal entity structure where this reduces operating cost. Card issuing volumes followed the usual seasonal pattern for the period.

Data platform work concentrated on lineage, so that every reported figure can be traced to its source. Customer complaints fell compared with the prior quarter after changes to dispute handling.

3.2 Revenue by segment

Figure 2 · Revenue by segment · Q3 FY2025 · USD millions



The group continued to simplify its legal entity structure where this reduces operating cost. Customer research informed changes to the mobile application's statement and document views.

The lending business tightened underwriting criteria for unsecured products in selected segments. Treasury extended the maturity profile of wholesale funding during the period.

3.3 Revenue commentary

Revenue rose in each quarter of FY2025. Management expects modest growth in H2, as pricing changes in the payments business annualise and lending volumes stay selective.

Customer complaints fell compared with the prior quarter after changes to dispute handling. Card issuing volumes followed the usual seasonal pattern for the period.

The compliance function completed its annual review of sanctions screening controls. The group continued to simplify its legal entity structure where this reduces operating cost.

The lending business tightened underwriting criteria for unsecured products in selected segments. The group kept its funding mix stable, with customer deposits remaining the primary source of liquidity.

3.4 Revenue by quarter

The table below sets out total revenue for each quarter of the fiscal year.

Table 3 · Total revenue · USD millions

Quarter	Total revenue
Q1 FY2025	4,120
Q2 FY2025	4,455
Q3 FY2025	4,890
Q4 FY2025	5,010[1]

[1] Q4 figures are preliminary.

Operating teams completed the migration of merchant onboarding to the shared identity service. The compliance function completed its annual review of sanctions screening controls.

Treasury extended the maturity profile of wholesale funding during the period. Cost discipline remained a priority, and discretionary spending was held flat.

3.5 Operating expenses

Customer complaints fell compared with the prior quarter after changes to dispute handling. Partnership agreements with two payroll providers moved from pilot into general availability.

Treasury extended the maturity profile of wholesale funding during the period. Data platform work concentrated on lineage, so that every reported figure can be traced to its source.

The compliance function completed its annual review of sanctions screening controls. The group continued to simplify its legal entity structure where this reduces operating cost.

Table 4 · Operating expenses by region · USD millions

Region	Q3 FY2025
Americas	1,180
EMEA	960

Table 4 continues on the next page.

Table 4 (continued) · Operating expenses by region · USD millions

Region	Q3 FY2025
APAC	610
Corporate[2]	340
Total	3,090

[2] Excludes discontinued operations.

4. Outlook

Staff training covered the revised conduct framework and the new incident reporting procedure. Customer research informed changes to the mobile application's statement and document views.

Operating teams completed the migration of merchant onboarding to the shared identity service. Risk management reviewed concentration limits across the lending book and found no breaches.